Mission and Vision

MARCLIFE COIN was conceptualized as a Smart technologies-anchored ecosystem aimed at solving the current problems associated with current conventional crypto trading & transaction processing services, including the delay in payment processing, fraudulent transactions, and expensive transaction costs. Further research into the Smart technologies escrows ecosystems revealed that current financial systems benefit from the Defi technology, which can solve the underlying challenges.

With the focus on building three primary functions as part of its Phase-1 deployment, MARCLIFE COIN mission is to simplify the transaction process across the globe by offering an alternative to the expensive middlemen generally required in these specific types of transactions. The token will be used for discounts on services, dividends from staking, and as a governance token allowing the community to vote on how foundation funds are spent.

Our mission is to:

- To enable retailers to accept digital assets for goods and services
- To enhance the utility of MARCLIFE COIN in different projects
- To make Blockchain technology and cryptocurrency accessible by the masses, even if the majority don't know how it works
